Atum Corporation announces strategic restructuring

Toronto, ON (April 1st, 2009) – Atum Corporation today announced the completion of its corporate restructuring, which formally establishes Luxor Corporation as an independent subsidiary company, responsible for the development, sales and support of Luxor CRM.

The restructuring sees Lukas Szczurowski, formerly the director of business and product development at Atum, promoted to chief executive officer of Luxor Corporation. Szczurowski joined the company in 2002 and has been the driving force behind Luxor CRM's growing success.

"Lukas has a clear vision for Luxor CRM and has proven he is up to the task of leading the company forward," said Jason Williams, CEO, Atum Corporation. "This step is a natural evolution for a successful division and, under Lukas' leadership, I'm confident that Luxor CRM will continue to gain market-share and recognition in the hosted CRM market."

"I'm pleased to be charged with the responsibility of taking Luxor to the next stage in its growth," stated Lukas Szczurowski, CEO, Luxor Corporation. "While Luxor will continue to be part of the Atum family of companies, we are now better positioned than ever for market growth and the successful execution of our strategic plan."

The companies will continue to be headquartered in their current Toronto office.

"Ultimately, this restructuring will allow both companies to pursue more opportunities in their respective markets," added Williams. "With Luxor clearly on its own path, Atum can return its focus to delivering outsourced IT services, and becoming a provider of choice for organizations across North America and the Caribbean."
